JOB ROLE

As a Front-End Developer, I possess expertise in React.js, HTML5, JavaScript, and CSS3. My proficiency in these technologies allows me to create highly responsive, visually appealing, and optimized web applications. I specialize in managing state using Redux and React Hooks, seamlessly integrating APIs, and building scalable and maintainable components that enhance user experience. Additionally, I prioritize UI/UX best practices, accessibility (WCAG compliance), and SEO-friendly development to ensure your platform is both user-friendly and technically robust. I thrive in collaborative and agile environments and stay updated with industry trends to deliver modern, efficient, and future-proof solutions for your business.
